Using your Magickal Oil

Our Magickal Oils can be used for anointing the body, cleansing and charging magickal items including jewellery, crystals, tools and other amulets. The oils can also be added to bathwater for a ritual bath, massage, or carried in cotton wool, used with candles, oil burners, mojo bags and mixed with incense. Only a few drops are required per use, so they are good value.

Only good quality ethically sourced herbs, crystals, essential and perfume oils are used for the recipes, which are hand blended using traditional Magickal techniques. The plastic bottle is recyclable.

All oils are skin safe and created by us in house to ensure quality and consistency. The oil is for external use only and must not be consumed. Our oils are not intended as an alternative to regular medical attention which must be treated by a health professional.

Empower your oil
follow this simple ritual:

Cup the bottle of oil in your hands, recite the following incantation while visualizing your intent within your minds eye. You may repeat it several times out loud or to yourself.

Herbal potion, cauldron brew,
now be charged with magick true.
With intent I speak this charm,
all be blessed and none be harmed.
Ever minding the law of three,
this is my will, so mote it be.
